

ANOINTED UNIVERSITY WORLDWIDE ONLINE COURSES POLICY

Introduction:

The Anointed University Online Courses Policy outlines the guidelines and procedures for students participating in online courses offered by the university. With the advancement of technology, online courses have become an increasingly popular option for students seeking flexibility and convenience in their educational pursuits. This policy aims to ensure a smooth and effective online learning experience for students while maintaining academic integrity and promoting student success.

1. Eligibility and Enrolment:

- a. All currently enrolled students are eligible to enrol in online courses, subject to availability and prerequisites.
- b. Students must meet the minimum technical requirements, including access to a reliable internet connection, a computer or mobile device, and any additional software or hardware specified by the course instructor.
- c. Enrolment in online courses follows the university's regular registration process, and any associated fees and deadlines apply.

2. Course Delivery and Format:

- a. Online courses may be delivered synchronously, requiring students to attend virtual lectures or discussions at specific times, or asynchronously, allowing students to access course materials and complete assignments at their own pace.
- b. Course materials, including lectures, readings, assignments, and assessments, will be made available through the Anointed university's learning management system (LMS) or other designated platforms.
- c. Online courses may include interactive elements such as discussion forums, virtual group projects, and online quizzes to enhance student engagement and collaboration.

3. Faculty Responsibilities:

- a. Faculty members teaching online courses are responsible for designing and delivering course content in a manner that ensures student learning outcomes are achieved.
- b. Faculty should establish clear communication channels and response times for students' queries and concerns.
- c. Regular feedback on student assignments, assessments, and participation should be provided in a timely manner.

4. Student Responsibilities:

- a. Students are expected to actively participate in online course activities, including attending virtual lectures, completing assignments, and engaging in discussions.
- b. Students should adhere to the university's academic integrity policy and avoid any form of cheating or plagiarism.
- c. It is the student's responsibility to ensure access to the necessary technology and internet connection required for the course.

5. Evaluation and Grading:

- a. Online courses will be evaluated and graded based on the same standards as traditional face-to-face courses.
- b. Assessment methods may include online quizzes, exams, papers, projects, or a combination thereof.

c. Grading criteria and rubrics should be clearly communicated to students at the beginning of the course.

6. Support Services:

- a. The Anointed university will provide technical support and resources to assist students in accessing and navigating the online learning environment.
- b. Academic support services, such as online tutoring and library resources, will be available to students enrolled in online courses.
- c. Students with disabilities may request accommodations through the university's disability support services.

Conclusion:

The Anointed University Online Courses Policy establishes the framework for students to successfully engage in online learning. By outlining eligibility requirements, course delivery formats, faculty and student responsibilities, evaluation and grading procedures, and support services, the policy aims to ensure a quality online learning experience that aligns with the university's academic standards. This policy promotes accessibility, flexibility, and academic integrity while fostering student success in an increasingly digital educational landscape.
